Talk title:
Minkowski Problems for Geometric Measures

Abstract:
Solving Minkowski problems in convex geometry is a theory of studying geometric measure equations of convex bodies. The smooth case gives Monge-Ampere type partial differential equations. After reviewing the classical Minkowski and Aleksandrov problems, we explain the general theory of Minkowski problems for geometric measures, and then discuss unsolved problems.